Introduction

History reveals that in 1909, a group of men stood at Broome Street, Cottesloe and overlooked a waste scrubland. Beneath the drab scrub and sandhills they envisaged a series of immaculate fairways, greens and trees. A desire was born to build their own links and play golf.

Sea View is a true links A grade championship golf course located in the picturesque beachside suburb of Cottesloe alongside a beautiful beach and looking out over the ocean to Rottnest Island.

The Course

Sea View is located on coastal dunes similar to that where the game in its present form originated, St Andrews, Scotland and where the elements themselves provide all the hazards necessary to test the golfer's skill. It is the third oldest golf course in Western Australia and is renowned for its playability. A course that will at all times make you play to your potential; nonetheless it is enjoyed by golfers of all levels.
